Re: Manuscript titled, "Good Judgement Does

Dear Ms. Fable,

This letter is in response to your submission of a manuscript titled, "Good Judgement Does Not Embarrass the Bureau," for review pursuant to the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) Prepublication Review Policy (PRP)(Manual of Administrative Operations and Procedures, Part I, 1-24).

The manuscript was reviewed pursuant to the terms of the PRP and the reviewer noted the following listed matters which require amendment/correction:

1. On page 60, the fourth paragraph, the second and third sentences in their entirety. These sentences reference electronic surveillance techniques and we request that they are excluded from the manuscript.

2. On page 80, the third paragraph, referring to [redacted] and his son defecting. The end to the paragraph refers to the family hosting them in NY. We request that you provide your source of this information and name it in the manuscript (ie the NY Times reported...). We do not want to confirm that a particular family hosted the [redacted]'s visit in NY, thereby causing potential harm to the family.

b6 -1

3. Lastly, there is concern regarding the photos that were submitted to be included in the manuscript. The passport photos submitted are property of the State Department, therefore we do not have authorization to release these photos. In addition, the surveillance photos that were submitted are considered property of the FBI and should have been filed with the case folder. Had these photos been released as a Freedom of Information/Privacy Act request, they would be releaseable. However, they were not obtain in this format, therefore they are not releaseable.

Re: Manuscript titled, “Address Data Extract Engine

Dear Mr. Morgan,

This letter is in response to your January 17, 2008, request for review of your manuscript titled, "Address Data Extract Engine Comparison," pursuant to the Federal Bureau of Investigation's (FBI) Prepublication Review Policy (PRP) (Manual of Administrative Operations and Procedures, Part I, 1-24).

The manuscript was reviewed by the Information and Technology Operations Division, pursuant to the terms of the PRP, and it was determined the submission be denied. This determination is based on the following reasons:

1. The fact that you signed a Non-Disclosure Agreement, as a requirement of your contract with the FBI, regarding the work you were hired to do. Therefore, specific information should not be disclosed to the public.
2. The fact the paper claims to describe the application of a method for comparison of two commercial products. The operating characteristics of these products on samples of operational data, is not suitable for public release. All the work is owned by the FBI / US Government.
3. Lastly, the work is specifically SBU/LES (/Law Enforcement Sensitive), therefore it should not be disclosed to the public.

Should you have any questions, please contact [redacted] at 540-868-1697. Thank you for your participation in the FBI's prepublication review process.

Dear Mr. Homer,

This letter is in response to the September 11, 2009, submission for review, pursuant to the Federal Bureau of Investigation's (FBI) Prepublication Review Policy (PRP) (Manual of Administrative Operations and Procedures (MAOP), Part I, 1-24), of your invitation to speak at Duke University Law School.

Your request to speak to the Duke University Law School is formally approved. However, please be advised that any discussion of matters relating to your employment with the FBI may involve pending cases, grand jury, classified, and other information, the disclosure of which could violate criminal laws or Department of Justice or FBI policy. In addition, please be advised that the FBI will not approve the disclosure of:

- A. Information protected from agency disclosure by the Privacy Act;
- B. Information this is classified or the disclosure of which could otherwise harm national security;
- C. Information that reveals sensitive law enforcement, intelligence, or counterintelligence techniques, sources or methods; or that reveals the sensitive, confidential, or proprietary techniques, sources, or methods of other agencies or governmental entities;
- D. Information that would reveal grand jury material protected from disclosure by Rule 6(e) of the Federal Rules of Criminals Procedure;
- E. Information that would reveal the identity of a confidential source or informant;
- F. Information that relates to any sensitive operational details or the substantive merits of any ongoing or open investigation, inquest, probe, prosecution, appeal, or case;
- G. Information that consists of the proprietary information of another, including trade secrets;

Mr. Homer S. Pointer

H. Information pertaining to wiretaps or intercepts protected or regulated or protected by Title III (Title 18, U.S.C., Sections 2510-2520);

I. Information pertaining to currency transaction reports regulated or protected by Title 31, U.S.C., Section 5319;

J. Tax return information regulated or protected by Title 26, U.S.C., Section 6103;

K. Information pertaining to contractor bids or proposals or source-selection information before the award of the procurement contract to which the information relates;

L. Information protected from disclosure by any other federal statute or regulation; or,

M. Information exempt from disclosure under the Freedom of Information Act (Title 5, U.S.C. Section 552) unless the material is clearly already in the public domain. (MAOP, Part I, 1-24(5)(a)1.)

You may include your current title or position as a biographical detail if it is given no more prominence than other significant biographical details, and if it is accompanied by a reasonably prominent disclaimer advising that the views expressed in the speech do not necessarily represent the views of the FBI.
